

Arrival of the Steamer America

10 Days later from Europe.

Received at the Post Office at Boston, Mass., on the 2nd Inst. from Paris, France.

The Steamer America, from Liverpool, arrived at Boston on the 2d inst. having been away from home 10 days. She brought with her a number of valuable cases of merchandise.

On the 3d inst. she left port, bound for New York, where she will remain until the 10th inst. when she will proceed to Boston again.

The Message of the President of the United States was read with deep interest by all. It was received with great interest and admiration by the people of Boston, who regarded it as the first effort of the Great Master of Civilization.

In Boston the stock market has been very steady.

The winter has been severe, Boston receiving its greatest amount of snow in December.

The British government has issued a circular to all the shipping masters, forbidding the employment of colored men on board of ships.

It is reported that many Bostonians are engaged in Boston to secure work for colored men.

The great banking house of Allard & Co., Madrid, has failed for six months. It is now closed.

The Spanish government has undertaken measures to put down the rebellion, and has sent a force of 10,000 men to the South.

The French government has undertaken measures to put down the rebellion, and has sent a force of 10,000 men to the South.

FRANCE.

On Wednesday afternoon the Senate of the Republic, at the time of the National Assembly, and M. Martel, in his capacity as Minister of War, were summoned before the Committee of Inquiry, to give evidence on the trial of General Lefebvre.

The trial of General Lefebvre, Commander-in-Chief of the National Guard of the Department of the Seine, and Captain-General of the 10th Military Division.

M. Bertrand, Commander-in-Chief of the Army.

M. Bertrand, representative of the People, Minister of Public Instruction, and Minister of War.

M. de Tracy, representative of the People, Minister of Marine and Colonies.

M. Falzon, representative of the People, Minister of Public Instruction, and Minister of War.

M. Léon Gambetta, representative of the People, Minister of Finance.

Asst. M. T. President of the National Assembly.

Mr. Jules Ferry, Minister of Education.

Mr. Jules Ferry, Minister of Education.